

Bubble, Bubble, Toil & Trouble:

Understanding Sensory Integration Issues in Young Children

Friday, October 31, 2008

9:00-Noon

Achieve Tampa Bay Conference Room
2215 E. Henry Ave., Tampa, FL 33610

Presenters: Marian Jones, Sheila Zendegui

This workshop will help participants identify children who may have sensory integration dysfunction through observation.

Participants will:

- * Be able to identify hyper and hypo sensitive children by their behaviors and develop practical strategies to use with those children to help them cope with their sensory differences in more socially acceptable ways
- * Refer families to appropriate community resources for further assessment and treatment as needed.

Workshop is geared towards anyone working directly with children and their families (i.e., child caregivers, service coordinators, mental health clinicians, nurses, physicians, parents, teachers, etc.).

Continuing Education: CEUs will be available through CMS for licensed providers and ITDS
