MEMORANDUM

TO: Florida Emergency Medical Communications Plan, Volume 2 Recipients
FROM: Matthew Matney, Chief of Public Safety Bureau, Division of Telecommunications
DATE: October 24, 2017
SUBJECT: Florida Emergency Medical Communications Plan, Volume 2, 2017 Edition

The Florida Emergency Medical Communications Plan, Volume 2 (plan) has been revised and now is available online.

This revision includes the following updates:

- Section 3.2.2, Emergency Department Information
- Section 3.2.3, EMS Provider Information

Because this plan is designed to be carried as a softcopy on all transport permitted vehicles within the state, more periodic revision may occur to keep section 3 current – particularly where telephone numbers and MED channel assignments are noted to be determined. If you need hardcopies for your transport permitted vehicles, use the link below to print them.

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Purpose

Volume II of the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Communications Plan (EMSCP) has been developed by the Florida Department of Management Services (the Department) as an operational “field manual” to be carried as standard equipment (hardcopy or softcopy) on all transport permitted vehicles within the state. It is designed to contain information useful for day-to-day operations, as well as to provide the data necessary to enable radio communications during transport operations in unfamiliar areas, including neighboring counties in Georgia and Alabama.

The Department of Management Services invites suggestions regarding the contents of both Volume I and Volume II of the EMSCP. Please submit recommendations and corrections for Volume II of the EMSCP to DMS by email to Akram Mckee at akram.mckee@dms.myflorida.com.

1.2 Summary

Section 2.0 “OPERATIONAL INFORMATION” contains best practice information for correct operation of communications equipment including operating protocol and technical considerations.

Section 3.0 “EMS FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS” contains an alphabetical listing by county of all radio frequencies, talk-groups, or both for EMS operations within the state, as well as hospital emergency department (ED) addresses and telephone information. In addition, radio dial codes are shown for those counties using selective addressing for radio communications with hospitals. The city and telephone number of each provider is listed. The air ambulance providers are listed separately, showing contact information, frequency allocation, and latitude/ longitude coordinates. Except for MED channel assignments and ED phone numbers, the hospital ED information is based on the database of acute care facilities recognized by the Agency For Health Care Administration (AHCA). The EMS providers listed in this section are also based on the licensure database from the Florida Department of Health (DOH).

Section 4.0 “INTERSTATE COORDINATION” gives a general description of the EMS communications systems in adjacent counties in Georgia and Alabama, as well as the address, telephone, radio frequency, and selective address dial code of each hospital in those counties.

Section 5.0 “HOSPITAL LATITUDE/ LONGITUDE COORDINATES” gives a listing of general latitude/longitude coordinates as provided by EMS providers.

Section 6.0 “WIDE-AREA AND STATEWIDE INTERSERVICE/ MUTUAL AID FREQUENCIES” lists the channel usage, eligibility, primary use, and statewide mutual-aid frequencies available for utilization in Florida.

Throughout Volume II of the EMSCP, the following abbreviations will be used:

- LMC – local medical coordination
- SMC – statewide medical coordination
- CMC – countywide medical coordination

2 OPERATIONAL INFORMATION

2.1 Operating Practices

In the course of providing emergency health care to the public, many of the individual participants practicing in the EMS system are required to communicate with one another via two-way radio communications. Good operator practice is essential to the effectiveness and efficiency of any public safety communications system. For EMS, good operator practice followed by an emergency medical technician (EMT), paramedic, dispatcher, physician, nurse or other emergency department personnel relates directly to a reduction in response time which in turn saves lives, reduces further injuries and minimizes suffering.

2.1.1 Equipment Familiarization

The first step in proper communications techniques is a familiarization with the radio equipment to be used by the operator. There are many different brands and types of radio equipment items that EMS personnel will encounter in their work and manufacturers are continually introducing new products that could present new educational challenges. As a minimum, communications systems are comprised of mobile and/or portable radios, base/repeater stations and various radio-controlled devices. Additionally, they may include more complex aspects such as telemetry, satellite receiver voting systems, vehicular repeaters, trunked operations and data.

The EMS personnel should be sufficiently trained in the correct operation of all equipment used for communications. Personnel should fully investigate equipment features in order to maximize the extent to which their equipment can assist in delivery of emergency services. Operators are encouraged to ask questions of their communications technicians, their manufacturer's representatives or DMS to ensure understanding.

2.1.2 Communications Skills

The objective of radio communications in EMS is to convey information in a concise and accurate manner. The communications skills exhibited by operator personnel can have a positive influence on the outcome of a particular event.

A. Operating Protocol

In most EMS services there is generally some agreed-upon protocol (written or unwritten) for the purpose of governing radio communications. If unwritten, such procedures are defined by tradition. No attempt is made here to establish a particular mode of operation; however, certain key points are highlighted for the benefit of operator personnel.

- Follow standard protocol established by the EMS service. It addresses the manner in which calls are to be placed from one unit to another, and governs the manner in which messages are formatted.
- Maintain channel discipline. Courtesy and respect for the communications of others sharing the radio channel go a long way in preserving order, especially in congested geographic areas with abundant radio traffic. Monitor the channel before transmitting to prevent interference to other users. Think ahead and keep transmissions short and to the point to maximize airtime.
- Practice verbal communications skills. Speak clearly, at a moderate rate, and directly into the microphone or handset to maximize intelligibility. Keeping the microphone close to the mouth overcomes background noise and permits the operator to speak in a normal tone of voice. Shouting should be avoided as it can result in audio distortion and therefore prevent intelligible transmission.
- Use plain language to describe a particular condition or event. Individuals under stress find it easier to relate clear and simple descriptions.

B. Technical Considerations

- Key your transmitter for at least one second before engaging in speech. The complexities in communications system design often introduce delay in the time it takes to turn on the various components comprising the system. Transmitters take time to come up to full power output, tone squelch decoding equipment requires time to open receivers and receiver voting systems take time to select the best receiver. While these events generally are accomplished in less than one second, there are many voice transmissions that could be missed in their entirety if the operator did not delay slightly before beginning his/her voice message. Pausing one second after depressing the push-to-talk button on the microphone or headset (for example, inhaling) is sufficient in most cases to prevent missed words or responses.
- Conventional channels versus trunked talkgroups – A conventional channel is used for the duration a typical two-way radio conversation. A trunked talkgroup is used for the duration for a typical two-way conversation; but, the actual channel may be changed by the radio system as each user takes turn speaking.
- Keep loudspeakers clear of clutter. Papers or other materials covering or obstructing loudspeakers can diminish receiver audio and alter intelligibility.
- Avoid turning receiver volume too low. A low setting may fail to attract the operator's attention to an incoming call.

3 EMS FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS

3.1 General

The following tables of radio channel allocations and organizational data for EMS communications within Florida has been incorporated into a database to be maintained over time for future revisions.

As with any database of this size, errors and omissions are bound to occur. The Department of Management Services (the Department) requests all organizations to review the data applicable to them, and to advise the department of any changes or additions.

3.2 Allocation Tables

The following tables are organized alphabetically by county. Within each county is a listing of EMS radio channel/system information, followed by information about emergency department facilities, and EMS providers.

3.2.1 Radio Channel Information

Radio channel information is shown by channel use description, continuous tone-controlled squelch system (CTCSS) frequency (in Hertz) and base-transmit and base-receive frequency (in MHz) or MED channel number. In the event of 800 MHz or 700 MHz systems, talk groups or conventional channels are shown.

A. MED Channel Frequencies

MED channel numbers 1 through 102 that are regulated by Federal Communications Commission (FCC) rules, and correspond to the following mobile/portable radio receive (Rx) and transmit (Tx) frequencies (in MHz):

¹ Talk-around use of mobile/ portable radios require simplex programming of the lower side (463.#### MHz) of the UHF pair for each channel.

² The MED-8 and MED-82 channels are exclusively reserved for MED-8 and MED-82 radio systems statewide with its respective CTCSS frequencies.

³ Ibid

B. CTCSS Frequencies

Continuous tone-controlled squelch systems (CTCSS) provide a reduction of nuisance interference in frequency modulated (FM) radio systems by incorporating a sub-audible tone onto the carrier frequency such that only a similarly keyed radio receiver will open its squelch circuit to receive the transmission. Although CTCSS by itself cannot prevent undesired "FM capture" from occurring due to nearby simultaneous co-channel transmissions, systems equipped with CTCSS will eliminate most interference from distant sources.

The CTCSS frequencies are designated by the Telecommunications/Electronic Industries Association (TIA/EIA) in TIA/EIA Standard 603. The following table is a portion of those CTCSS frequencies above 90 Hz and below 211 Hz, which are approved for EMS radio communications in Florida. There are two abbreviated code schemes for these frequencies in the following table – the Motorola codes and the Wolfsberg (WOLF) codes. To the extent possible, CTCSS tones within a local geographic area should be exclusively from either Group A or Group B to avoid false sensing due to adjacent tone frequencies.

GROUP A

CTCSS FREQ (Hz)	MOTOROLA CODE	WOLFSBERG CODE
100.0	1Z	14
107.2	1B	16
114.8	2A	18
123.0	3Z	22
131.8	3B	24
141.3	4A	26
151.4	5Z	28
162.2	5B	32
173.8	6A	34
186.2	7Z	36
203.5	M1	38

GROUP B

CTCSS FREQ (Hz)	MOTOROLA CODE	WOLFSBERG CODE
94.8	ZA	12
103.5	1A	15
110.9	2Z	17
127.3	3A	23
136.5	4Z	25
146.2	4B	27
156.7	5A	31
167.9	6Z	33
192.8	7A	37
210.7	M2	--

Excluded from the above list are CTCSS frequencies below 90 Hz which may cause unacceptably long receiver response times in some systems, frequencies above 211 Hz which may require special engineering considerations in production and frequencies which would receive interference from common 60 Hz, A.C. power systems and non-TIA/EIA frequencies offered by some manufacturers which would limit interoperability.

3.2.2 Emergency Department Information

For each county, emergency department facilities are listed by geographic (rather than postal) address, followed by the 24-hour telephone number of either the switchboard (Main), emergency department (E.D.) or both. Usage by MED channel, talk-group (TG) and/or conventional channel (CC) shown for emergency departments is current as of October 2017. Specific emergency department MED channel allotments have been assigned by the Florida, Department of Management Services (DMS) to each emergency department facility and are shown beside each facility under the column titled "Med Channel Assignment." Information pending is shown as to be determined (TBD).

3.2.3 EMS Provider Information

Within each county, EMS providers are listed alphabetically showing the telephone number of each provider. Telephone numbers are current as of October 2017.

3.2.4 Statewide DTMF Addresses

Each county has been assigned a primary dual-tone, multi-frequency (DTMF) address for use in the MED-8 Statewide Medical Coordination (SMC) system. The DTMF address is listed with the name of each county which was derived from an alphabetical list of Florida counties.

3.3 EMS Air Transport Information

The EMS air transports are listed alphabetically by county showing the address, emergency phone and fax numbers for each agency. Radio channel information is also provided for each air agency.

Communications for aeromedical services may utilize certain radio frequencies within the Aviation Services of 47 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations), "Aeronautical Enroute and Aeronautical Fixed Stations." The scope for aeronautical enroute stations is limited to the necessities of safety and primary operation of the aircraft. Sub-part I of 47 CFR does not allow for medical communications. These channels are associated with air-traffic control centers, airport control towers and "Unicom" communications systems. By design, these radio systems are limited in the communications coverage capabilities they would provide for low flying rotorwing aircraft. Given the limitations, by rule and/or design associated with these radio channels their use by prehospital for flight following is not acceptable.

Frequencies within the applicable FCC rules may be utilized for air ambulance dispatch and response and/or medical coordination on a secondary basis to land-based systems. Licensing for implementation or expansion of air ambulance communications on any frequencies within the public safety requires prior approval by DMS. The EMSCP has established specific radio frequency allotments for both air primary and air secondary channels within Florida for aeromedical dispatch and/or flight following communications.

All licensed rotorwing aircraft and dispatch centers within the State of Florida shall have the ability to communicate on the air secondary frequency 155.340 MHz with a CTCSS of 167.9 Hz. This provides continued flight following with the aircraft while medical crews utilize their MED-channel as trunked radio to provide medical reports (LMC or SMC). Secondarily this system provides a statewide radio for coordinating a mass casualty incident with aircraft that would necessitate communications with the various aircraft, dispatch centers and/or landing zone management. Further, this frequency shall provide EMS helicopter personnel with continued safety of flight situations in which a vehicle is out of its prime area and unable to access its dispatch center. Such use of the air secondary channel shall be limited only to the temporary duration of such situations unless otherwise approved in writing by DMS.

4 INTERSTATE COORDINATION

4.1 General

Medical emergencies near the state line of northern Florida often involve the mutual response of emergency medical service providers and hospital emergency departments in Alabama and/or Georgia. Interstate communications between providers and hospitals of all three states are necessary to support such EMS operations and mutual-aid agreements, as well as for wide-area mobilization of emergency response units during mass casualty incidents and disaster situations. This section (current as June, 2000) describes the Very High Frequency – High Band portion of the EMS communications systems, radio frequencies and selective call addresses of hospitals and providers in the southernmost parts of Alabama and Georgia, which are readily accessible to providers and hospital emergency departments in the North Florida area.

4.2 Alabama

Each hospital has a specific radio dial code assigned to it. To access a hospital, select the appropriate channel and then dial the radio dial code of the desired hospital with an interrupted tone rotary dial encoder (HEAR/EACOM).

5 HOSPITAL LATITUDE/ LONGITUDE COORDINATES

The following aeronautical information (latitude/longitude) is specifically designed to provide information for computer based navigation systems aboard aircraft. This data (current as July 1998) is not intended to be utilized for approach, landing, or departure operations. Coordinates were generated by LORAN-C, GPS, or VOR/DME calculations furnished by numerous Florida aero medical providers. The Department of Management Services makes no warranty, expressed or implied, as to the precision of this information and explicitly disclaims liability to the accuracy thereof. You should check Airman's Information Manual, Airport/Facility Directory, NOTAMS, and/or Safety Bulletins for supplemental data and current information. Please email akram.mckee@dms.myflorida.com corrections and additions to make this information more accurate
