Protect Yourself. Protect Your Customers. Get Your Flu Vaccine.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP), and the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee (HICPAC) recommend that all U.S. healthcare workers—including pharmacists, technicians, and clerks—get vaccinated annually against influenza.

- Healthcare workers who get vaccinated help reduce the transmission of influenza, staff illness and absenteeism, and influenza-related illness and death—especially among people at increased risk for severe influenza illness.
- You can infect others beginning 1 day before symptoms develop and up to 7 days after becoming sick. You could pass the flu on to someone before you know you are sick, as well as while you are sick.
