

August 2007

Bureau of Radiation Control
RADIOACTIVE MATERIALS PROGRAM
Information Notice 2007-06

RADIOACTIVE MATERIAL LICENSE CATEGORIES AND FEE REVISIONS

Effective August 16, 2007, Section 64E-5.204, Florida Administrative Code is, revised. This revision of the Florida Administrative Code changes the license categories described in our Information Notice 2007-05 and in the table below. This revision also increases all fees for radioactive material license categories in the State of Florida. Note that our licensing fees have not been increased since 1998. Please refer to Regulatory Guide 6.20, Revision 5, dated August 2007, for detailed information on the category changes and new fees. You will find it on our website at: <http://www.myfloridaeh.com/radiation/matform.htm>.

Category 5A and 5F		MEDICAL USE
OLD	NEW
5A	5A(I)	Teletherapy or gamma stereotactic radiosurgery including gamma knife devices
	5A(II)	High dose rate remote afterloading devices
	5A(III)	High dose rate remote afterloading devices and gamma stereotactic radiosurgery including gamma knife devices or teletherapy devices
5F	5F(I)	Mobile nuclear medicine services
	5F(II)	Mobile high dose rate remote afterloading therapy device when the treatment is only performed on the mobile vehicle
Category 3L(I)		BY-PRODUCT, NATURALLY OCCURRING OR ACCELERATOR PRODUCED MATERIAL
OLD	NEW
3L(I)	3L(I)	Portable gauging devices
	3H	Fixed gauging devices
Category 7		DEVICE, PRODUCT, OR SEALED SOURCE SAFETY EVALUATION
OLD	NEW
7A No annual fees	7A Adds Annual fees	Safety evaluation of devices or products containing radioactive material, except reactor fuel devices, for commercial distribution or in accordance with the unique specifications of, and for use by, a single applicant; per device remaining in active status. Devices or products in inactive status more than 5 years must submit another application fee and be re-evaluated.
7B No annual fees	7B Adds Annual fees	Safety evaluation of sealed sources containing radioactive material, for commercial distribution or in accordance with the unique specifications of, and for use by, a single applicant; per source remaining in active status. Sources in inactive status more than 5 years must submit another application fee and be re-evaluated

No specific actions nor written response is required. If your license category is included in the revision it will be amended to reflect the new category. If you have any questions, please contact our office at (850) 245-4545.