2. Identify potential discipline measures and retaliation prohibitions

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

At the end of Section 2, you will be able to:

1. Respond to and report cases of sexual harassment, and
2. Identify potential discipline measures and retaliation prohibitions

Slide 4 – Responding to & Reporting Sexual Harassment

Responding to & Reporting Sexual Harassment

Everyone has a role & responsibility to identify & report sexual harassment.

Refer to
FDOH Sexual Harassment Policy,
DOHP 60-35

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

Everyone has a role and responsibility to identify and report sexual harassment. The remainder of this presentation details the roles and responsibilities of individuals, co-workers, supervisors, and managers.

For a comprehensive description of Department responsibilities, please refer to the “Areas of Responsibility” and “Procedures” sections found in the Sexual Harassment policy, DOHP 60-35, for information on filing and processing complaints.

Slide 5 – Self Awareness & Communication

Self Awareness & Communication

Sexual harassment is not reported because:

- Fear of Retaliation
- Not trusting others to handle the complaint
- Fear of transfer from current workplace
- Doubts about confidentiality
- Uncertain if conduct is sexual harassment
- Skepticism that situation will change

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

It is very important to strengthen an employee's self awareness of and ability to communicate about sexual harassment. Often sexual harassment is not reported due to fear, mistrust, or skepticism.

Other factors that contribute to not reporting sexual harassment are:

- Fear of retaliation
- Not trusting others to handle the complaint
- Fear of transfer from his or her current workplace
- Doubts about the level of confidentiality
- Uncertainty of whether the conduct is sexual harassment, or
- Skepticism that the situation will change

Slide 6 – Empowered to Take Action

Empowered to Take Action

Knowledge & enforcement of DOHP 60-35:

- Supports effective responses
- Promotes stringent confidentiality & privacy practices
- Encourages consistency of disciplinary actions

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

With due diligence and effective communication, employees can become empowered to take appropriate action to stop and prevent sexual harassment.

For employees of the Department of Health, knowledge and enforcement of Sexual Harassment policy, DOHP 60-35, supports effective responses to sexual harassment, promotes stringent confidentiality and privacy practices once reported, and encourages consistency of disciplinary actions in response to harassment situations.

Slide 7 – If You Have Been Offended

If You Have Been Offended

Actions you can take:

- Communicate directly to the harasser to stop
- Report the incident to your supervisor
- If your supervisor is the harasser, report to the next level of authority

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

If you have been offended by unwelcome sexual conduct, there are several actions you can take.

You can:

- Communicate directly to the harasser to stop the unwelcome behavior and
- Communicate with your supervisor and report the incident

If your supervisor is the harasser, seek assistance and report to the next level of authority.

Slide 8 – If You Have Been Offended

If You Have Been Offended

Seek assistance by contacting:

- Servicing Human Resource Office
- Equal Opportunity Section of the Office of the General Counsel
- Florida Commission on Human Relations or the
- Equal Employment Opportunity Commission

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

You can also seek assistance by contacting:

- Your servicing Human Resource Office
- The Equal Opportunity Section in the Office of the General Counsel or
- The Florida Commission on Human Relations or the
- Equal Employment Opportunity Commission

Slide 9 – Reporting Harassment

Reporting Harassment

- Be specific about the unwanted & offensive behavior
- Include dates, times, locations, witnesses, number of occurrences & other supportive information
- Describe how the behavior affects you
- State that you want the behavior to stop
- Suggest an alternate behavior that may be an appropriate course of action

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

If you have been offended and are reporting an incident, be specific when describing the behavior. Relay as much information as necessary such as dates, times, locations, witnesses, number of occurrences, and other information that will support your claim.

Describe how the behavior affects your well-being or work performance, and state that you want the behavior to stop. If applicable, suggest an alternate behavior that appropriately resolves the undesired conduct.

Slide 10 – Witnessing a sexual harassment incident?

Witness a sexual harassment incident?

Report incidents of harassment immediately to a superior.

- Describe your observations in detail
- Be specific & accurate
- Who was involved, dates, times, locations, witnesses, number of occurrences & other supportive information

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

If you have been a witness to a sexual harassment incident, you must promptly report the issue to your supervisor, or if your supervisor is involved, report to the next level of authority.

Describe the incident in detail and as accurately as possible, and relay as much information as necessary such as who was involved, dates, times, locations, witnesses, number of occurrences, and other supportive information.

Slide 11 – Responsibility of Supervisors & Managers

Responsibility of Supervisors & Managers

- Know the content of DOHP 60-35
- Ensure staff members complete DOH mandatory sexual harassment training
- Communicate that sexual harassment is not tolerated
- When made aware of an incident, contact the equal opportunity section within 24 hours
- Failure to report could lead to disciplinary action

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

As a supervisor or manager, enforcement of the Department’s sexual harassment policy requires proficient knowledge of its content. You must be knowledgeable of the sexual harassment policy, and ensure that staff reporting to you complete the DOH mandatory sexual harassment training.

Communicate to staff that sexual harassment is not tolerated in this organization. By doing this, it immediately affirms the Department's position that sexual harassment is never acceptable. When you are made aware of an actual or alleged sexual harassment incident, you must contact the Equal Opportunity Section in the Office of the General Counsel within 24 hours. Failure to report the matter promptly could lead to disciplinary action.

Slide 12 – Tips for Supervisors & Managers

Tips for Supervisors & Managers

- Maintain a cooperative relationship with staff
- Empower your staff to feel comfortable with you
- Talk less & listen more
- Take appropriate action to end the undesired behavior per DOH 60-35

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

One of the responsibilities of supervisors and managers is to maintain a constructive and cooperative working relationship with your subordinates. Empower your staff to feel comfortable enough to converse with you when ever they feel offended, threatened or violated at work. In order to assist employees in reporting sexual harassment, engage in active listening. Talk less and listen more. Ask questions that allow them to explain the experiences or observations from the undesirable incidents without feeling intimidated. Once you have knowledge of the actual or alleged incident, take appropriate action to end the undesired conduct as established in the Sexual Harassment policy.

Slide 13 – Tips for Supervisors & Managers

Tips for Supervisors & Managers

- Be responsible
- Respond & take action promptly
- Actively communicate with complainant
- Follow-up with complainant
- Keep involved staff informed of progress

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

Once you are aware of a sexual harassment incident, you and the Department can face significant liability if you do not take appropriate action to end the behavior.

Promptly respond to the reported incident to prevent further misconduct and inform the affected employees of your course of action. Be sure to follow-up with the complainant after the investigation is underway. Describe what you or others will do to resolve the issue, and ensure that you will keep them informed as the investigation progresses.

Slide 14 – Disciplinary Actions Retaliation Prohibitions

Disciplinary Actions Retaliation Prohibitions

What are the consequences of sexual harassment?

Per DOHP 60-35

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

The Sexual Harassment policy, DOHP 60-35, provides that employees who engage in sexual harassment are subject to discipline, and that it is prohibited to retaliate against employees who report sexual harassment. The implications of sexual harassment in the form of disciplinary actions and the prohibitions against retaliation are described in the next three slides.

Slide 15 – Disciplinary Actions

Disciplinary Actions

FL Statutes, DOHP 60-35 & FAC 60L-36.004

- Sexual harassment offenders face disciplinary actions up to & including termination of employment
- Supervisors & managers who fail to report sexual harassment will be subject to disciplinary actions
- Any employee who knowingly files a false complaint of sexual harassment will be subject to disciplinary action

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

Sexual harassment offenders are subject to discipline in accordance with all applicable Florida state statutes, Department regulations, and personnel rules. The Department's Sexual Harassment policy, DOHP 60-35, describes disciplinary actions for offenders in regards to sexual harassment, up to and including termination of the offender's employment.

Department regulations also describe disciplinary actions for supervisors or managers who have knowledge of sexual harassment, and do not act immediately by reporting it to the Equal Opportunity Section, in the Office of the General Counsel. Florida Administrative Code Chapter 60L-36.004, Sexual Harassment, further describes that employees who knowingly file a false charge of sexual harassment will be subject to disciplinary action.

Slide 16 – Retaliation is Prohibited

Retaliation is Prohibited

To report retaliation, contact:

- Servicing Human Resource Office
- Equal Opportunity Section, Office of the General Counsel
- Florida Commission on Human Relations
- Equal Employment Opportunity Commission

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

Per Department policy, the Department of Health will not tolerate, and explicitly prohibits retaliation against persons who raised a complaint, opposed a complaint, or assisted in reporting a complaint regarding sexual harassment. To report cases of retaliation regarding complaints about sexual harassment, you may contact your servicing Human Resource Office, the Equal Opportunity Section in the Office of the General Counsel, the Florida Commission on Human Relations, or the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Slide 17– Retaliation Claims

Retaliation Claims

Essential elements of a retaliation claim:

- A protected activity
- An adverse action
- A causal connection

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

If you find yourself having to file a retaliation claim, the Department’s Sexual Harassment policy details three essential elements of a retaliation claim which must exist and be included within your claim.

When reporting retaliation you must describe:

- A protected activity – for example, your opposition to the discrimination, sexual harassment, or your participation in the complaint process
- An adverse action – the retaliatory action, and
- A causal connection between the protected activity and the adverse action

Slide 18 – Conclusion

Conclusion

You have the power to stop sexual harassment.

- Sexual harassment can occur across genders, all levels of job roles & within various workplace contexts
- Employees who engage in sexual harassment are subject to discipline, including dismissal
- Retaliation is prohibited
- Be aware & be prompt in reporting

DOH Mandatory Training FY2013-2014

Sexual harassment can occur across genders, all levels of job roles, and within various workplace contexts. The Florida Department of Health is committed to ensuring a workplace free from sexual harassment as addressed in the Department’s Sexual Harassment policy DOHP 60-35, which states that sexual harassment is illegal and will not be tolerated, and that employees should work in an environment free from sexual harassment.

This policy provides that employees who engage in sexual harassment conduct are subject to discipline up to and including dismissal, and that retaliation against individuals who in good faith file a complaint of sexual harassment or have participated in the investigation of a complaint is prohibited. All employees should be familiar with this policy. Be aware and be prompt in responding to and reporting sexual harassment. The power is in your hands to keep sexual harassment out of the workplace.
