Report to the Florida Legislature:
The Sexual Battery Victims' Access to Services Act,
The Rape Crisis Program Trust Fund, and
Rape Crisis Services in Florida

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Florida Department of Health (Department), Violence and Injury Prevention Section (VIPS) is pleased to provide the Florida Legislature the 2019-2020 Rape Crisis Program Trust Fund Legislative Report, as mandated by section 794.055, Florida Statutes.

In 2003, the Florida Legislature created "The Sexual Battery Victims' Access to Services Act" and the Rape Crisis Program Trust Fund (RCPTF) within the Department. The Act created a funding system for distribution of monies generated by a $151 fine assessed on offenders convicted of sexual battery and other offenses. While the clerk of the court retains $1 of the fine as a service fee, $150 goes to the RCPTF. This Act also requires the Department to contract with a statewide, nonprofit association to distribute these funds for the provision of sexual battery recovery services. The Department contracts with the Florida Council Against Sexual Violence, Inc. (FCASV), a statewide nonprofit organization committed to assisting victims and survivors of sexual violence and the rape crisis centers that serve them. FCASV subcontracts with rape crisis centers throughout the state to serve victims.

From September 2003 to June 2020, county clerks deposited $25,313,281 into the trust fund. Rape Crisis Program Trust Fund monies are awarded annually to FCASV. In fiscal year 2019-2020, the FCASV received $243,290 to provide statewide initiatives in support of victims, while 31 certified rape crisis centers received $1,378,641, for a total annual distribution amount of $1,621,931 to provide victims with a variety of sexual battery recovery services.

THE SCOPE AND IMPACT OF SEXUAL VIOLENCE

In the 2019 Florida Statewide Violent Crime by Offense Report, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement reported 8,439 forcible sex offenses and 4,342 arrests. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) National Intimate Partner and Sexual Violence Survey (NISVS) published data in 2011, which found that approximately one out of every six women in Florida – more than 1.3 million – had been the victim of rape or attempted rape while 42 percent of women in Florida had experienced other forms of sexual violence (SV).

As noted in the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's STOP SV Technical Package, sexual violence is highly prevalent. Approximately 1 in 5 women (19.3%) in the United States have experienced rape or attempted rape in their lifetime and 43.9% have experienced other forms of SV. For instance, 12.5% have experienced sexual coercion, 27.3% have experienced unwanted sexual contact, and 32.1% have experienced non-contact unwanted sexual experiences (Breiding, M. J., Smith, S. G., Basile, K. C., Walters, M. L., Chen, J., & Merrick, M. T. (2014). Although national prevalence studies indicate that women carry the greatest burden of SV over their lifetimes, men are also impacted by SV. Approximately 1 in 15 men (6.7%) have been made to penetrate someone at some point during their lives, 5.8% have experienced sexual coercion, 10.8% have experienced unwanted sexual contact, and 13.3% have experienced non-contact unwanted sexual experiences (National Intimate Partner and Sexual Violence Survey, United States, 2011).

THE RESPONSE TO SEXUAL VIOLENCE: RAPE CRISIS SERVICES

During the 2019-2020 fiscal year, advocates in 31 certified rape crisis centers across the state provided immediate and ongoing response to sexual violence victims. Certified rape crisis centers serve recent adult and adolescent rape victims and adult male and female survivors of childhood sexual abuse. Rape crisis centers provide in-person crisis intervention and/or helpline services, advocacy and accompaniment, and information and referral 24 hours a day, 7 days a week in an attempt to meet victims' needs.

SEXUAL BATTERY SERVICES

In fiscal year 2019-2020, 1,835 new and ongoing primary and secondary victims received services. Certified rape crisis centers received 25,637 helpline calls related to sexual battery. The following details the sexual battery recovery services provided:

SERVICE STANDARDS AND CERTIFICATION OF RAPE CRISIS CENTERS

FCASV is responsible for service standards and the certification process for Florida's rape crisis centers. Service standards and certification are based on the following:

- A broad array of high quality, sexual violence services must exist in every community.
- Victims are best served through sexual violence services provided in the context of a coordinated, collaborative, and multidisciplinary approach including medical/forensic providers, advocates, criminal justice professionals, and other social service providers.
- All service providers must have victim empowerment as the cornerstone of service delivery.

Independent on-site reviews of each rape crisis center are conducted every other year to ensure compliance with the service standards and the certification process.

OTHER FUNDING SOURCES FOR RAPE CRISIS CENTERS

General Revenue: In response to the overwhelming need for rape crisis services in Florida, Governor Ron DeSantis continued to recommend, and the Florida Legislature approved, $2,500,000 in recurring general revenue to fund rape crisis centers, bringing the state's total general revenue appropriation to $3,000,000. The funds appropriated for sexual battery recovery services include $500,000 provided through the Office of the Attorney General and $2,500,000 through the Department of Health to FCASV for distribution to certified rape crisis centers for the provision of services to victims of sexual battery.

Victims of Crime Act (Federal): The Victims of Crime Act, passed in 1986 and reauthorized in 2013, supports many direct service programs at rape crisis centers. This fees-and-fines-based funding is from the United States Department of Justice and is administered in Florida through the Office of the Attorney General.

Violence Against Women Act (Federal): The Violence Against Women and Department of Justice Reauthorization Act has improved the systemic response to sexual violence victims by funding training and technical assistance to first responders at rape crisis centers, law enforcement agencies staff and allied professionals to improve the provision of sexual battery recovery services for sexual battery victims.

- The Sexual Assault Services Formula Grant Program (SASP) funding is passed through from the Department to FCASV for distribution via a competitive grant process to eight certified rape crisis centers.
- FCASV receives Services-Training-Officers-Prosecutors (STOP) funds so that FCASV staff can provide training and technical assistance to first responders at rape crisis centers, law enforcement agencies and allied professionals to improve the provision of sexual battery recovery services for sexual battery victims.

Injury Prevention and Control Research and State and Community Based Programs (Federal): The CDC provides Rape Prevention Education Program funding to the Department's VIPS. This source supports ten agencies implementing the sexual violence prevention strategy Green Dot. Each funded site works in their local community to provide the knowledge and skills for everyone to be proactive and reactive bystanders in an effort to end sexual violence.

Preventive Health and Health Services Block Grant (Federal): The Department's VIPS funds four agencies via the Preventive Health and Health Services Block Grant to implement the sexual violence prevention strategy Green Dot. Each funded site works in their local community to provide the knowledge and skills for everyone to be proactive and reactive bystanders in an effort to end sexual violence.

FINANCIAL COMPLIANCE

As required by The Sexual Battery Victims' Access to Services Act, the Department ensures that funds allocated through the trust fund are expended in a manner that is consistent with the provisions of the Act. The VIPS ensures that no more than 15 percent of the funds are used by FCASV for administrative costs and no more than 5 percent of the funds are used by the Department for administrative costs. Additionally, FCASV submits quarterly financial expenditure reports and an annual audit to the Department for review.
