FloridaHealth.gov/FASDWebinar

This webinar is for health care providers focused on expanding clinical understanding, improving the use of screening tools, leveraging interventions, and strengthening referral to available resources.

Providers can earn continuing education credit for participation in the webinar.

The Florida Department of Health has free resources to assist health care providers when talking to their patients about the importance of abstaining from alcohol during pregnancy, along with community awareness materials. Visit FloridaHealth.gov/FASD to learn more.
